No sooner has China signed a new agreement with Great Britain regarding the importation of opium than she proceeds to evade it or break it. Some amount of mild excitement has been caused here lately by the appearance on all this chief walls of the city of huge posters referring to the consumption of opium. The government, it would appear, in its endeavour to stop the use of this drug has been experimenting with certain herbs which are supposed to allay the craving for opium, and it is stated that certain famous doctors in the North have no v been a le to compound a mixture that in a short time effectually allays the desire for the drug. A company with a monopole, of sale of this remedy has been opened in the Sui Kwan, and branch offices are to be opened throughout the Province. Minute particulars of the method of use are given, and put into simple words mean that a certain portion of this nestrum is to be mixed with the quantity of opium smoked. While the government deserve all praise for trying all mouns to suppress the opium habit, it can hardly be hoped that this new remedy will effectually eradicate. the habit. Not only in China, but in other countries, time and time again, have such remedies been tried only to result in failure. remember some six or seven years ago in the Malay States a herb was discovered that was sup-Commandant at Aleazar reports that he posed to have wonderful properties to stop this craving. Enormous quantities of a decoction of this herb were made, and the Chinese came in thousands to receive it," and the aid of the police had to be called in to preserve order round the doors of the places where it was distributed. Miraculous cures were reported, but in a few weeks the whole affair was forgotten. It will be interesting to observe what effect this new remedy will have on the opiumsmoking population of this city.

> Yesterday the Chief of Police sent a posse of constabulary to a boarding-house in Sai Wu Street; and there arrested seven persons on a charge of being concerned in the late rebellion Nearly all the men were queueloss. They were first taken to a guard boat, instead of to a police station, and later in the day their trial was held in camera, and it has not yet trunspired what evidence was given. There is a good deal of vague rumour to the effect that a new rising is likely soon to take place but how said. During the past few months the nerves. of the people have been set on edge, and the most improbable tales find ready credence. Certain it is that the police are still very active... in "smelling out" rebels, and the establishment of so many new secret societies in the country further trouble is imminent. While not guaranteeing the information, I heard yesterday that Admiral Li Chun and Tressurer Chan have removed their families from this city in fear of a further rising.

MORE ARRESTS.

MILITARY ACTIVITY. General Lung has given orders that the time devoted to rifle practice, by the 'troops is to be at once increased. In a few days' time, military manusures extending over a period of five days will be carried out round about Canton. The reason of this increased activity is said to be that authorities have heard that another rising will occur in the near future. CITY GATES.

Since the late trouble the city gates have been closed at a very early hour, thus causing great inconvenience to the people. This is especially true of the South Gate, through which passes one of the chief arteries of the city. Moreover, the fact of the gates being thus closed tends to keep the people in a state of alarm, for so long as they see such precautions being taken they naturally think that something serious is about to occur in the near future. This has been brought to the notice of the Vicercy, who has given orders that the gates may now be kept open much later, and that any one producing a pass from one of the officials may pass in or out at all hours of the night.

RAILWAY AFFAIRS. It is reported that H.E. Tuan Fang, who has lately taken over charge of all the railways of the country, is about to appoint an officer to every province with absolute power to deal with any railway questions that may arise therein.. The officer to be appointed to Kwangtung is said to be Wan Chung Yin, a native of the San Ling District, to merly on the staff of Queen's College and lately Chinese Agent in Tibet. EIEMPLARY PUNISHMENT.

Notwithstanding strict orders to the contrary an enormous amount of private gambling goes on even in the official yamens. The game chiefly sparrow-card, and this game is said to be a favourite one with the officials. A night or two ago four petty officers were found playing residence. H.E. was very angry about it and ordered each of the men to receive one hundred strokes with the bamboo. The official in whose room the gambling took place was at once dismissed from his post, to which he had been appointed only a few days previously. TERRIBLE FLOODS.

News comes from Weng Ling Po, a remote The probable starters for the Liverpool place in the Tung On District, that terrible there was continuous rain for several days and the river rose so rapidly and with such force that four hundred houses were swept away. Enormous damage has been done and many lives have been lost, and the report describes the condition of the place as pitiable. The Viceroy has directed that Tls. 1,000 be taken at once from the Treasury and dispatched for the relief of the afflicted people. The charit able institutions of this town are also sending Various verbalamendments having been made, The ATTORNEY-GENERAL suggested that the Bill should be left in Committee, because it, with the Stamp Bill, effected changes in the Stamp Law, and it could be passed on the same day as the Stamp Bill.

STAMP AMENDMENT ORDINANCE. The COLONIAL TREASURER moved the second reading of the Bill entitled, "An Ordinance to further amond the Stamp Ordinance. 1901, and the law relating to Stamps and Stamp Duty." In doing so he said-The reason for the introduction of this Bill at this time, Sir, is the contemplated revision of the Ordinances of the Colony. In going through the old Ordinances in connection with this subject I discovered a number of defects which I noted from time to time during the past few years. This Bill cures these defects and at the same time makes some fuller explanation of the existing law. There is nothing new in the principle of the Bill that has not been in force here or in England.

Hon. Mr. HEWETT -Your Excellency, there is one point about which I would like to ask you. that is, the question of the increase of nearly $25 400 increase in the mails vid Siberia. It is a question that has been before the Council before, but I think the time has now arrived when it ought to be considered by the Government as to whether increased postage should not be charged via Siberia, because there English arrister by the time he arrives is a steadily increasing amount of postage sent in the Cory, and of the decision of the Govern- that way, and we cannot afford to send it at ment to agint one or more persons, not necest penny postage. HIS EXCELLENCY-That point has been re- the custom house and explain. presented by me to the Secretary of State, who replied that to charge the higher rate was against the whole policy of the British Post Office and could not be assented to. The policy of the Imperial Post Office is to reduce the rate by every possible route, and to charge a higher rate for the Siberian route would be contrary to Imperial policy. Hon. Mr. HEWETT-With all due deference to the Secretary of State, I think that his decision is wrong, and that the matter ought to be at the gangway by a guard smaked to exrepresented to him again.

HIS EXCELLENCY-I think the Imperial Government is itself a far heavier loser, as it has now taken over the post al agencies in China, and will have to bear the inc reased charges on these as well as Hougkong. Hon. Dr. Ho Kai-The loss represents the number of letters sent by Hongkong people vid Siberia, not from the outports. The loss mentioned by the hon, member really means that a certain number of ratepayers have to pay for sending their letters to England by the Siberian post. Really it is not a loss at all We are not bearing anybody's burden. We are bearing the burden of our own community.

His Excelesnor-Quite so. I think the hon, member will find that in next year's accounts this sum will in all probability be greatly reduced because it represents the cost of the postal agencies which Hongkong no longer bears. I think I am right.

The COLONIAL TREASURER -I think so, Sir. On Council resuming.

The Colonial Secretary reported that the Bill had been considered clause by clause and that no material alteration had been made therein He moved that it be read a third time.

The ATTORNEY GENERAL moved that the Council go into Committee again to consider the reports of the Standing Law Committee on the Bill entitled, "An Ordinance to abolish Minimum Penalties, and to bring the Law of the Colony as to Penalties into uniformity with the Law of England, and for other purposes."

The COLO VIAL SECRETARY seconded, and the motion was agreed to.

The ATTORNEY GENERAL said that the Committee had suggested that the Bill should be passed in form A, in which it stood at the end of their report. Since that had been issued he had suggested that certain additions and alterations be made, and the amendments which he wished to move were in the schedule.

A number of verbal amendments were sub mitted and approved.

The draft of the Bill marked "A" and attached to the report of the Standing Law Committee was substituted for the draft Bill which was previously said before the Council and was approved in Committee with the amendments added by the Attorney-General.

THE INTERPRETATION ORDINANCE. The ATTORNEY-GENERAL moved that the Committee stage beresumed on the Rill entitled An Ordinance to amend and codify the law as common Forms and as to the Interpretation of Terms used in Ordinances."

A number of definitions were added and verbal alterations were made.

The Colonial SECRETARY -I move that the Bill attached, with report No. 3 of the Standing Law Committee, and marked "A" in the report, as amonded by the Attorney treneral just now, do take the place of the Bill now before the Committee. CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

LECTURE AT THE THEATRE ROYAL.

That Christian Science has an interest for many people in Hongkong was demonstrated by the large number of people who attended the lecture on this subject given last night by Mr. W. McCrackan, of the Christian Science Board in the face of the sun on filmy wings, is asked of Lectureship. The lecture was an exposition of Christian Science as a demonstrable religion, and it was treated in a manuer which could give right and just views concerning God and His no offence to those who accept orthodox views universe be capable of more precise statement? of Christianity, while it was suggestive in the new phases of an old relie ion which it presented. A patient and attentive hearing was accorded than has been the case in the past? Why the lecturer, who before he commenced, was asked by Colonel Steepole if he would answer questions at the close, a question to which he returned an answer in the negative. Mr. Anderson, Consul General for America, provided.

The CHAIRMAN, in introducing the lecturer, said :- It may be superfluous to make any announcement of it, but I think I should say that I am not a Christian Scientist: I really know little of the real tenets or teachings of the true God, and Josus Christ, whom Thou hast Christian Scientist Church. However, I recog. nize in it, as I think all reasonable men recognize in it, a distinctively uplifting factor in modern religious discussion. There are several hard | absorbing question, What is God? facts about the Christian Scientist movement which shallenge attention. It is a movement Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder which commenced something like a score of years ago in the work and writings of a lone woman. It is a movement which, unique among religious movements, has appealed to the intellectual classes rather than the mass of people. It has profoundly affected all other militant religious organizations, and has compelled some of them to undertake work bitherto foreign to religious effort. Now, whether we accept its teachings or not. I think that all reasonable men must recognize its accomplishment in having built up a world wide organization upon the basis of teaching an increased capacity of the human soul and faith in God. The centre of this great organization, which has been built up in the past few years, is the First Church of Christ Scientist in Boston, Massachusetts,the mother church as it is more generally called. Attached to this home church there is a board of lecturers composed of men of the Christian Science faith who have accomplished something beyond the ordinary in life, who have done something beyond the usual in law, literature, or some other branch of intellectual endeavour. Among the members of this board of lecturers is Mr. M. B. McCrackan who has distinguished himself as a writer, traveller, and lecturer. I have pleasure in now introducing Mr McCrackan, who will address you.

Mr. W. D. McCrackan in the course of his lecture said :- The message Christian Science is simple and straightfarmand and responds to a universal need. It

RELIGION OF PROGRESS. This is an age of practical achievement, and Christian Science is in thorough accord with the demand made for proofs. It lives and grows in favour with the need of the earth by reason of its fruits. Christian Science makes no claim which it cannot substantiate, and so. in this day of advance in every department of human activity, it is demon-trating its right to be known as the religion of progress. Not that God, Who constitutes the basis. foundation, and principle of all true religion, ever changes or progresses; not that the teachings of Jesus the Christ, the Founder of Christianity, need to be revised or the Bitle rewritten. We read in the Scriptures that with God there is neither variableness nor shadow of evil in any of its forms. He did not create of turning: we also believe that the precepts and warnings of Jesus can never for an instant, else He were not wholly become antiquated, and that the Bible of our fathers, the great treasure-house of Christendom, when spiritually interpreted has no origin in Spirit, no entity nor by Christain Science, suffices for our daily needs, reality of God's making, and no eternity. The thread of gold which gleams throughout but is always a false concept, assailing the mind the fabric of the Bible will shine forth forever of mortal man until such time as its lying to be apprehended by the receptive thought nature is laid bare and its futile, transitory everywhere. So it is not a new Bible which | pretences cease to frighten. Evil has no stand-Christian Science contemplates, but one and the jug before God. These who dwell "in the same Bible, explained in a spiritually progressive manner. It is not a new God which it proclaims, but the only true God, our Father which is in heaven. It makes no attempt a an improved Christ, for there is but one Christ, who is in the bosom of the Father, perfect, eternal, and indestructible. Christian Science is progressive, and marks an advance in religion because it throws the strong light of Science upon the nature and attributes of Deity, upon the teachings and works of the Christ, and because it makes clear and emphasizes the essential, imperishable import of the Bible's spiritual message.

Christianity implies no attempted change human affectious at the same time that the in God or Christ or the Bible, but it does so-called law of sin and death loses its supposed PRINCES PLATE, imply a very decided change in the human hold upon human affairs. point of view, in man's comprehension of eternal verities. It means the application of Beience to subjects which popular thought has in times past been taught to regard as shadowy and does not credit religion with any great degree of certainty and definiteness. And yet, if the er." Spiritual facts are not shadowy beliefs, not available at all times and under all circumstances. random guesses, nor do they vanish at the touch of

And why should not this knowledge concerning the fourtainhead of all knowledge, the Giver of our being—why should not this knowledge constitute demonstrable Science? Christian Scientists believe that it does: that Jesus pointed out the only true, final, and real knowledge when he said, "And this is life eternal, that they might know Thee the only

WHAT IS GOD! Every thinking man finds himself, sooner later, face to face with the all important and all

In summarizing the teaching of Christinn Science for the student. Christian Science, gives the answer "to that question in her work "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures": "God is incorporcal, divine, supreme, infinite Miad, Spirit, Soul, Principle, Life, Truth, Love" (p. 465). Upon a correct comprehension of God depends the happiness, the peace, the true prosperity, and the true usefulness of mankind. Nay more, - and this is a point which may seem novel to many-Christian Science shows that the true health of mankind is determined by their understanding of God and His Christ. Not only is this correct and scientific knowledge proved to be beneficial to man in his duily avocations, in his home, in his business, in his individual affairs and in his participation in the affairs of the nation, but it exerts a beneficial effect upon the physical condition of man, women, and children, and heals sickness as well as sin and sorrow. To know God and His Christ is not, therefore, merely to learn the doctrinal points in some barren and desultory theology, to set up dry pedantic postulates, but, as Jesus has said, to know God "is life eternal." As soon as man turns understandingly to the only true God, he begins to dwell in the consciousness of Life, begins to be unconscious of everything which can in any way infringe upon or impair life, and to be free mentally from the encroschments of He is learning to be "absent from the body," from this material penthonse, and "present with the Lord," with the life-giving principle which is eternal and fadeth not away. In spite of much that is being written and preached on this infinite theme of the nature of the Godhead, one has only to watch public expression or, indeed, to search one's own habits of thought, to recognize many illogical and even dangerous concepts which need correction through careful definition. Let us consider two of the definitions used by Mrs. Eddy in her answer to the question, What

If God is Spirit, then the real man of His creation, who is made in His image and likeness, as the Bible assures us, and therefore partakes of His nature, must be spiritual, i.e. must express and manifest Spirit. The real man's Life must be Spirit, his faculties must be spiritual. Furthermore, as the image and likeness of God the real man must be complete. happy, wholes me, and healthy. He cannot deny his parentage nor bring discredit upon his ancestry. He must be eternal and indestructible now, this ideal man, the son of God. PEARL HARBOUR A PACIFIC GIBRALTAR.

Mr. Meyer Secretary of the U.S. Navy recently discussed his plans for concentrating mavy yard work and abandoning plants that would not be needed in time of war before the House Committee on Expenditures in the Navy Department. The Secretary, it is said, will recommond the abandonment of the yards at Portsmouth, N. H.; Philadelphia, and Charleston, S C., and have those at Boston, New York and Norfolk prepared for handling all construction and repair work done by the Government on the Atlantio Coast. Secretary Mover recommended to the House Committee on Naval Affairs last session that the navy yards at Sackett's Harbour, Port Royal, Pensacola, New Orleans, San Juan and Cavite be abandoned. Last month he said three navy yards on the Atlantic Coast and three on the Pacific Coast would be amply sufficient in time of war. Consideration as to what yards should be abandoned, he said, had been referred to the joint Army and Navy Board.

In the event of war operations in the Pacific, Secretary Meyer said, Fearl Harbour, Hawaii, which he described as "the Gibraltar of the Pacific," would be the base of operations for the United States flort.

"You say," queried Representative Hardy, chairman of the committee, that the Philippines have been abandoned as a naval base. Does that mean that we would abandon the islands in time of war?"

The Secretary pointed out that the Army was being strongly fortified in the Philippines, and that so long as the United States fleet in the Pacific was concentrated as a single unit operating from Pearl Harbour no foreign Power would be able to land a large force in the Philippines.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

It will hardly be necessary here to insist upon the fact that religion should save the sinner. Whatever may be the doctrines which divide the various branches of Christendem, all are agreed at least upon this point, that it is the natural work of religion, the business of Christianity, to save the sinner. But there is no such agreement among the various denominations upon the question of healing the sick; at least, not as yet. Josus healed the sick, his disciples and spostles healed the sick, the early Christians for some three or four hundred years after the Crncitizion healed the sick, by spiritual means; but during the intervening centuries the world has more and more relegated the healing of the sick to a special profession, using material means. Since Mrs. Eddy's discovery of Christian Science the healing of Jesus' time has been reinstated, in accordance with His unmistakable injunction to His followers, and to-day hundreds of thousands of men, wemen, and children in all partions of the globe rise up to bless the name of the good and brave woman to whom they owe health and happiness, through whose teachings they have been delivered from pain and sorrow, from the fear torment and the despair of godlessness. Special circumstances seem to have fitted Mrs. Eddy from her youth for the mission of mercy to which God called her. Born of New England parentage, in the State of New Hampshire, she grew up in an atmosphere of wholesome freedom. and when a young girl received, for the times, secular and religious. As a woman of progressive and advarced ideas, she investigated fearlessly the questions which came before the public. Especially was she interested in the healing art, and her quick recovery from the result of an accident, through the revelation of the spiritual meaning of the Bible, led to her discovery of Christian Science in 1866. followed the publication of her epoch-making work, the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," now. widely distributed among the civilized nations of the carth. This book is proving itself to be a potent factor in the elevation of the human race. and is literally making history by remodeling the lives and careers of multitudes.

RESULTS OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE. But what are some of the chief results of Christian Science, what the principal reasons for its hold upon the gratitude of mankind?

First of all, its teachings obliterate any supposed reasons for pessimi-m. If it were really true, as public opinion has been only too prone to believe during the passing centuries, that God, the First Cause and basic Principle, is the author of evil as well as of good, then despair would be justified, for the struggle against evil would be hopeless. If evil could point to omnipotence as its author, it could not be successfully opposed, for it would have divine sanction. In that case, too, it would be but natural that there should be hopeless sinners and sick persons who are incurable. It is difficult to understand what the Christian gospel, or "good news," could mean under such circumstances, or wherein its usefulness could lie, if it inculcated such views; but when the teachings of Christian Science concerning the goodness of God are unders cod, the curtain is lifted and the student perceives clearly, for the first time, that Christianity, when scientifically understood and applied, brings complete selvation to humanity. including salvation from what is called physical health. But first must come the correct estimate of "the things of the Spirit," the theology of Jesus and its meaning as interpreted Christian Science; then only can follow the works which Jesus commanded His followers to do, which He did himself, which His disciples and apostles and the Christians of the early church did, and which those Christians who understand His message are doing to-day.

HOPE FOR ALL. Christian Science proves that there is hope for all. It reassures even those who have been made to consider themselves lost or incurable It comes to the doomed and abandoned, and by its unanswerable logic convinces them, first of all, that their situation is not as bad as it seems; that evil is not as powerful as it pretends, that status, no rights, no legitimacy; that, on the appear, together with all the other safeguards it has no authorization from on high, no legal contrary, man's real origin in God justifies his formerly insisted upon, in deference to Sheng's reasonable expectation that good shall prevail; that peace, harmony, health, and sinlossness shall be his portion; that strength, sweetness, and beauty shall be his normal inheritance from a merciful Father; and that the Love which pusceth understanding shall eventually crown all his right endeavours with success.

Christian Science gives ground for this natural hope, but it does more than that. It instructs men in the rudiments of true faith and shows them why this hope of salvation is justified by metaphysical facts. Faith then readily ripons into understanding, as the student makes pracstart new vistas of grand possibilities cheer the the Governments and financiers concerned have learner on his way, and, more important still, repeatedly declared to be contrary alike to the the actual proofs of God's infinite power best interests of China and of the foreign bondand goodness encourage him to take the neces- holder. sary footsteps. CHINESE LOANS.

THE HUKUANG RAILWAYS.

FROM "THE ECONOMIST,"

In our issues of May 27th and June 3rd we published articles from a correspondent in Poking analysing the terms and conditions of the currency reform loan agreement recently eigned by the "Four Nations" Banks in that city. The conclusion of the first of these articles, dealing chiefly with the financial aspects of the case, was that, while we may regret the absence of direct control, "feeling appears to be justified that every proper effort has been made to enve China from herself.
Though her sousibilities have been respected, the way has been paved for the wise execution of a sound policy and the honest administration of the funds which will be at her disposal." The second article (dated Peking, May 16th), after discussing the economic and political conditions of Manchuria, concluded with the opinion that the signature of this loan "may for the moment be regarded as satisfactory assertion of the claims Europe in general and of America to an interest in the country." The views of our correspondent, who is in close touch with the official world of the Chinese capital, may be assumed to reflect the general opinion of Britishers and their representatives, that in this case the course taken, though a second best, was the best under the circumstances.

But since these articles were penthings have happened an exceptionally comprehensive education, both at Peking which will eventually have tio politics, but on her foreign credit. On 24th the "Four Nations" Banks advanced to the Chinese officials concerned the sum of £400,000 as a first instalment of the "Currency Reform" loan, this sum to be devoted to "commercial enterprise in Mancharia and the reimbursement of expenses incurred during the plague." An innuspicious opening this to the great scheme by which Mr. Knox hoped to regenerate China's finances; for in the past "commercial enterprise" in the hands of the mandarin has proved almost more expensive to China than the plague itself. The unwisdom of placing foreign capital at the disposal of Chinese officials has been so frequently and so plainly exposed in these columns and elsewhere that the new policy of eas going confidence requires scrutiny, and those interested in Chinese securities will be well advised to enquire whether the present Chinese Gove ament leans are to be recommended on their intrinsic merits, and how far the present agreements are the result of political complications and cosmopolitan compacts in that fardistant field.

On May 20th the "Four Nations" Banks signed the second of their loan agreements namely, a contract whereby theng Hauanhual, the Minister of Communications, will be placed in possession of capital for the purpose of constructing a section of the Hankow-Canton Railway and of lines projected to run from Ichane, in Hupei, to connect with the Peking-Hankow system on the one hand and with the Szechuen railways on the other. the record and reputation of Sheng Kung pao, known amongst his dwn countrymen as the "old fox," it is unnecessary to say more than that none of the enterprises with which he has been connected in the past have been particularly creditable. The ultimate amount of this loan is expected to be not less than ten millions sterling. Two days before the signature of this agree.

ment on Edict had been issued re-calling the ex-Vicercy Tuan Fang to office, and appointing him. Director-General of the Hankow-Canton and Hankow-Szechuen Railways, with orders to give effect to the recent decision of the Government, "that all trunk railways are to be built by the Central Government, and that all now under process of private construction are to be resumed by the State." According to the Paking correspondent of the Times this railway lcan agreement is the most important ever signed in Chian, and should give "profound satisfaction" to all interested in the railway development of the wealthy provinces of the Yangteze Valley. Nevertheless, there is no word in the agreement as to effective supervision of expenditure, and it is an open secret that even the ineffective form of indirect control, agreed to in the Tientain-Pukow lean, has been allowed to displea of " provincial agitation." and this at a time when the Central Government is once more asserting its ability to exercise complete authority over the provinces. Despite the deplorable experiences of provincial autonomy, as shown in the case of the Hangehow-Niugpo Raildespite the waste and corruption which have attended the construction of the Tientsin-Pukow trunk line under Government control, and the many abuses revealed in the Ministry of Communications' financing of the Peking-Hankew Railway and other undertakings, ten millions more are now to be added to China's foreign loans under conditions which

A career which opens in this way in the Chinese Government," and he attribute the fact th t the terms of the present loan are & very favourable to China to "the success attend. ing the construction of the main line from Tientsin to Pukow." Yet what are the escential facts concerning that railway and its loan? By the original Angla German agreement, the line was to cost £5.000,000, this being, roughly, the expenditure of the Belgians on the parallel Peking "nokow trunk line. Thanks to land frauds waste, and squeezing, the actual cost will assuredly amount to double that total, the Chinese availing themselves freely of the facilities offered for supplementary loans. Loss than two years ago the same correspondent, referring to the grave scandals arising from these abuses. HUNGNGOI SAN PO rightly observed that "the revelations which had taken place were significant, because they supported the view, then widely held, that the loan agreement did not adequately safeguard the expenditure of the foreign loan funds;" he suggested at the same time that a recent official Nofe, in which reference had been made to the 'eminently satisfactory working" of the Tientein-Pukow Railway's northern section. must surely have been ironical. At that period he, in common with most observers on the spot, denounced the influence of the Deutsche-Asiatische Bank over the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation as "extremely injurious to British interests in China." To-day, as the result, no doubt, of the diplomatic extrencies of the moment, all is changed, and, in the case of the present lean, we find no reference made to the extinction of safeguards which were formerly considered essential. The loan itself is generally described as "non-political." But we understand that it is regarded as highly favourable to German interests; and if our Foreign Office is assisting Germany in China, we trust that this) friendly policy is distinctly intended to

ANÆMIA AND ITS VICTIMS. terminate that cut-throat and insensate competition in Dreadroughts, which has been responsible for such heavy additions to taxation in both Great Britain and Germany during the last three or four years.

In all this question of Chinese loans, the essential point to be considered is their effect,

first, on the future and credit of Chica, and,

secondly, on the position of bondholders under past and future loan agreements. For it is to be observed that, in the past, all the parties concerned, with the natural excepttion of the Mandarin, have agreed that, without effective supervision over expenditure (such as exists in the case of the Northern and Canton-

Kowloon Railways), every new borrowing is likely to add to China's burdens without increasing her national resources to a corresponding extent. If the railway leans do not produce efficient railways at a reasonable capitalisation,

then the security of the Chinese Imperial guarantee, on which the investor relies in the last resort, is good, chiefly for the reason that

China will never be permitted to repudiate,

and that, in Manchuria, as elsewhere, the creditor at a distance is likely to have his claims met by the creditor in possession on the spot.

But the business, now proceeding, of reducing

China to the financial position of Turkey or

Persia, is, from our British economic and commercial point of view, as unnecessary as it is undesirable. Quite rightly, therefore, did the Governments of England and France, by an selves opposed to their nationals making railway were estensibly raised. It was subsequent, we outset pledged to the maintenance of those Germans by admitting them to participation.'

It was therefore agreed by all the parties concerned that German participation was advisable.

was to be used as a means to the desirable end of re-establishing the former

"control" safeguards; and the German financiers joined the "Tripartite" upon the expressed condition that all concorned would hereafter insist upon "Canton-Kowloon terms] of control as a minimum," terms which provide for an engineer-in-chief and an accountant invested with powers adequate to protect the interests of the bondholders. That was the sound and benevolent object of the pact;

its practice has sadly degenerated; for, in the recent loans, so far as one can judge,

the small residuum of honest administration

provided for in the Tientsin-Pukow loan agreement has been further reduced and sacrificed

in deference to Chinese official susceptibilities.

All the financiers concerned are reported to be separately and privately of opinion that the terms of the present railway loan are highly uneatisfactory, and are likely to lead China into new seas of trouble, but none of them is willing to refuse participation, because of the political

China, and because of those mutual suspicions and jealousies which some of the officials know so well to foster and to use. No doubt the national movement in China, which has, of course, its good side if only it can be directed along rational as well as national lines,

is partly responsible for the official attitude towards effective supervision. We do not abandon hope that a sound central department of supervision may be organised in Peking.

But it remains to be seen whether the Central Government will ab de by its brave decision to take charge of all ra-lway trunk lines, or whether,

as in the cas of the Ningpo line, it will content itself with lending out the foreign capital at a profitable rate of interest, to the provincial

This tonic food, which is the most revitalising preparation known to Science, stimulates the blood-making organs to their atmost. The result is that the red corpuscles are made in great numbers and the vital iron is rapidly restored to them. This has been strikingly shown in innumerable cases. The General Practitioner, May 20th, 1905, reports this case: - "A girl, aged 17, with exchange of Notes early in 1909, declare them-3,900,000 red blood corpuedes per cubic centimetre, after three weeks use of Sanatogen, showed an increase of 300,000 red corpuscles guarantees that the funds would be strictly

ROYALTY AND GOLF. ----KINGS AND PRINCES WHO PLAY

THE ANCIENT GAME.

I remember that once when Mr. Balfour was beaten in a famous Parliamentary election at Manchester he was seen the very next morning going off to play a game of golf on a local course just for ell the world as if nothing had happened instead of the bottom having got knocked out of the political universe, as most of the papers -some of which were in the right hon. gentleman's pocket-we o trying to make but. He wore most unstatesmanlike clothes (and do most sincerely admire Mr. Balfour for his splendid unconventionality in golfing costume). I have seen him playing on a wet day at Ransligh in what I will swear was a leather motor jacket (or something exceedingly like it, and he was playing well, too, and winning), and heavy and greesy-boots with big nails in the soles, a cap that neither you nor I could so well have afforded to be seen wearing except on a golf course—and he had his bag of clubs under his arm. His procedure was a splondid testimony to his common sense; for what could be better for the man after the stress and strain of that tremendous election than the serious consideration of how to stop oneself from slicing all the tee shots, or how to hole patts of the length of twelve inches when there is what seems to be a speek of dirt nearly as large as the head of a pin-but which may be nothing at all; you are not quite sure-right in the line of that awful puti?

THE STATESMAN'S STYLE, Some, I remember, at that time argued that Mr. Balfour going to play golf that morning proved what a tremendous power he had for detachment of mind when necessary; but I have seen much of him at golf, and I doubt if this is altogether correct. There is much of the dreamer in Mr. Balfour's nature ; if he had been able to concentrate himself more flercely on the game. I feel sure that with his natural abilities and his really quite good style he would have got his handleap down to two or three, if judged not to sgratch by this time. He will nover be scratch for the reason I have indicated. I first suspected him very strongly in this mattor several years ugo when I was watching him. with Mr. Alfred Lyttelton as his partner, playing in a fousome down at Sandwich.

The match was in an even state, and on one of the greens when Mr. Lyttelton was left to hole a yard putt for the hole, Mr. Balfour, instead of watching with anxiety what was happening, was looking in a very thoughtful way out across the sunlit bay towards Ramsgate. Tariff Reform was a very foremost subject of political talk at that time, and I know that there are some who thought they knew what Mr. Balfour was thinking about then However, his partner having holed the putt without his seeing it, Mr., Balfour brought his gaze back to Sandwich, and, by way of saving something which was pertinent to the occasion, he remarked to one of the party, "It is really very beautiful this morning." It was; but still-All this may seem to have little enough to do with the question of kings and coronations, which is the prevailing subject of the moment, but it has everything to do with them in a certain sens. It is not at all unlikely that some of the great royal personages who are concerned in this majestic business will gain some relaxation shortly afterwards in the one game above all others that is called royal. There need hardly ever be a question as to whether any particular king can play golf or not in these days, because with only one or two small exceptions they have all played it-yes, played it even if in some cases I must add the qualification that they have played it "somehow"—and it is cert inly the game that is commonest to most royal people.

THE LEVEREST ROYAL GOLFER. royal golfers is Prince Albert of Schloswig- drove the first ball at the opening of the Holstein, who is keener on it than on anything Cumberland Lodge Club. else in the worl t, and practises most assiduously on every possible occasion. I believe his handicap i now down to about 2, and from something only a little hi her be nearly won the recent spring match-play fournament at. Sunningdale. Perhaps the greatest thing any royal golfer has even don., being as good in its way as it is possible to do, was to make a most extraordinary round on one of the Riveria courses last winter at the time that our great professionals were there, in a score that was one less than that done the same day by no less capable a player than James Braid. It was Prince Albert who did that, and from this it will be perceived that he is now very nearly good enough for the amateur championship. Probably the next best among the royal golfers is Prince Albert, whose game is valued at about nice handicap. He has a rather better style than the Prince of Wales, and plays most of his shots better. As to the golfing quality of the reigning kings, it is almost certain that the best of them is King Alfonso, who for two or three years after his first introduction to the game was most wonderfully keen upon it. He conferred a Spanish order on the professional in the Isle of Wight who taught him. I fancy he has been rather less addicted to golf in the most recent times; anyhow, we have heard less of those games which he used to be playing all the time with the palace doctor. Dr. Glendenning, at La Granja, the king always keeping a record of his scores and playing the game in the American style, without his cost. There was at one time, as it seemed, a very fine prospect for King Alfonso as a golfer, despite the fact that he is left-handed, a circumstance which has probably saved him from taking back to Spain with him every time he comes over here far more clubs than even a king should possess, for these left-handed things are not so numerous even in the big shops.

KING MANOEL'S PROGRESS, As things are, the dethroned King Mancel may be catching him up if he persists steadily in his tuition under Willie Hunter at Richmond. His preliminary efforts were not highly promising, and he failed to do those wonderful things with a clock which most beginners do on their hrst day and then not for years afterwards; but there is much in his favour. The last time I read anything about his progress was in a paragraph meant to be exclusively about his golf and with a golf heading, but with three lines at the end of it saying. "It is officially stated that the whole of the revenue of the Duchy of Braganza is being forwarded to King Manoel without any restrictions." The previous sentence had informed us that Willie Hunter was lending the king some clubs instead of selling him new ones "in case of accidents." The connection between the revenue of the Duchy of Bragauza and the golf played by a new enthusiast may not be obvious to ordinary From 1sr JANUARY, 1864 TO SIET DECEMBER people, but golfers themselves will make a joke !

one time, and there are certain fine tales told of his days on the links which I have no intention of repeating; but such a busy monarch has little enough of time for such fine recreations now. Almost every week we hear of a new royal convert to the game, and that even in the highest circles they respect the old maxim which serves so well with lower orders, that it is never
